47th ANNIVERSARY
1962-2009

President's Corner

Mike McCutcheon is a long time club member who has become the 2009-2010 Co-Chair of Marketing. Lately we've been seeing him at meetings selling club shirts and raffle tickets.

Mike grew up on a farm in Michigan near a town called Bad Axe that is located on the state's "thumb," a smaller peninsula that extends northeast into Lake Huron. Mike's family had cattle and grew corn and soybeans among other things. Mike attended a one room-school house through the 8th grade and then moved south to Farmington, Michigan just outside of Detroit where he graduated from Farmington High School.

After high school, Mike joined the Navy and was stationed out of San Diego. He worked on submarines and cargo ships that sailed to Southeast Asia. In 1962, Mike left the Navy, became an electrician, and spent the remainder of his career as an electrician. He also attended San Diego State and completed about 2 years worth of course work.

Mike learned to ski in the 1970's with his kids at various areas in California. He has been a club member since 1981.

Mike has some interesting marketing ideas for the club and has already initiated a couple of them. First, there's the 50/50 Raffle which he has been running at club meetings. The winner of the raffle gets half of the money collected and the other half goes into the club funds. Second, Mike has been selling club shirts which he would like everyone to wear at club activities. Shirts are $19.00. Eventually, at each activity (walks, bocce ball, beach bunch, ethnic dining, ball game, etc), Mike would like the activity organizer to give each person wearing a TPSC shirt a ticket on which they can put their name and date of the activity. At the next meeting they attend, they can deposit that ticket into the "can" for the raffle drawing. Each member that sponsors a new member gets a ticket for the drawing.

Some of the items that have been raffled to date are: event tickets, shirts, caps, and bottles of wine. Be sure to buy raffle tickets at the next meeting.. Don't forget to purchase and wear your club shirt.

What Will The Airlines Think Of Next??? Yikes!

If you think U.S.-based airlines are cutting costs in some strange ways -- check this out. According to UK news sources, Europe's Ryanair is considering plans for passengers to stand during flights so that more people can be squeezed onboard. Apparently, the airline is in talks with a manufacturer about designing planes with standing room -- where fliers would perch on bar-style stools with seatbelts around their waists. Ryanair estimates it would be able to pack in 50 percent more passengers while cutting costs by 20 percent, if they are given the go-ahead by the Irish Aviation Authority. While they appear to be serious about the idea, remember that this is the airline that proposed to charge passengers to use on-board toilets last year, but that idea was cancelled due to a huge public outcry.
